Notes

As the sunflower turnes its face
to the light of the sun,
so Spiritualism turns the face of humanity to the light of truth.

Funding Our Future

Simple ways to make gifts.....

This brochure is for general information only. You are advised to consult an estate planner, tax advisor, accountant or attorney for more specific information.

DIRECT GIFTS

This is the easiest way. You receive an immediate charitable tax deduction. The gift may be made to the general fund of your church, camp, or the NSAC. You may wish to direct the gift to a specific project or program that you and the recipient select. A gift to the Endowment Fund of your church, camp, or the NSAC is held in trust.

BENEFICIARY DESIGNATION

Life insurance, retirement plans, bank accounts and joint tenancies allow you to direct the proceeds of your account to the beneficiary of your choice. Contact the appropriate institution to name your church, camp, or the NSAC as the new beneficiary. Banks, savings and loans, retirement accounts and life insurance will provide Change of Beneficiary forms that allow you to add your church , camp, or the NSAC as a recipient of those assets.

PLANNED GIFTS

If you are interested in increased income, capital gains avoidance, and reduced taxes, then the planned charitable gift option may be for you. During your lifetime, your tax sheltered gift is invested according to guidelines for social responsibility while you still receive income for life. At your death, your pooled income fund gift benefits the church, camp, or the NSAC in any ration you select.

BESQUESTS

These are gifts to be made in the future, simply by naming your church, camp, or the NSAC in your will or Living Trust. If this option fits your estate plans, you can use the following simple language to direct your will or trust, to benefit the church, camp, or NSAC at your transition. For simple estates, after consulting with your estate advisor you may need to do nothing more than draft a handwritten codicil to your will. Most stationary stores have preprinted Statutory Will Forms available that may suit this need if you do not have a will.

Thank you all

INSURING THE FUTURE OF CHURCHES, CAMPS, AND THE NSAC DEPENDS ON YOU!
