My Story:

I have been a member of my NSAC church for over twenty-five years. Along with the membership in the church comes the membership with the National Spiritualist Association of Churches.

I attend my church on a regular basis, always giving, and assisting when I could. I became involved on the board, and often served the church as a speaker or medium. I always stepped in on fundraising events, whether donating, assisting, or planning. My church, and church community became a part of my life.

When it came time to sit down with my husband, and attorney to go over our finances, I wanted to make sure my church, and the National Spiritualist Association of Churches would continue to receive my assistance as they have given to me over the past twenty-five years.

Now, I am just average, not rich by any means, but we did find a small portion to donate as a "living Legacy" to both my church, and the NSAC.

I have to say, filling out the paperwork with our attorney, gave me the satisfaction in knowing that Spiritualism will continue to receive financial support when I am no longer in the physical. The sense of relief, knowing I, with my small donation, will be a part of Spiritualism continuing, is more than words can express.

I just have one question to ask of you, are you ready to join me?

Anonymous

If you would like more information, please fill out the reverse side and return to NSAC.

While this information attempts to offer basic information, it is not intended as a substitute for legal or financial advice. Every person has different needs, so it is always important to contact your own attorney. They will be your independent legal advisor and will have an obligation of trust and confidence to you. With the advice of your attorney, you can develop a customized estate plan that truly fulfills your unique family, healthcare, estate and planning circumstances and charitable goals.

National Spiritualist Association of Churches
13 Cottage Row, PO Box 217
Lily Dale, New York 14752, USA
www.nsac.org 716-595-2000

Leave a Lasting Legacy

Remember NSAC and your Church in your will or estate plan

NATIONAL SPIRITUALIST
ASSOCIATION OF CHURCHES

Many people choose to include charity in their will or estate plan. Have you considered including NSAC or your local church in yours?

Thank you for the gifts you have already given in your lifetime. We know through the years you have carefully thought about how much to give, to whom to give and how to give.

Now we invite you to consider a "living legacy." You have loved and served Spiritualism and you know life continues-the intangible. What of the tangible assets you may leave behind? Your church has come to count on you-wouldn't it be wonderful to find a way to take care of your family and yet still ensure you can support Spiritualism as always?

By leaving a gift in your will or estate plan, you can continue to contribute and help the message of Spiritualism move forward. This is called a "living legacy" because through a planned gift, you live on here in the physical world in the sense that your lifelong efforts continue to bear fruit in helping others.

Ways to Give

- Through a gift in your will
- Through a gift of property, such as stocks, real estate, art, etc.
- By designating NSAC or your church as a beneficiary or contingent beneficiary on your retirement assets, insurance policies, bank, or investment accounts.
- Through gifts such as a charitable gift of annuity or trust, which pay you income during your lifetime

Are you ready to leave your Living Legacy?

A formal estate plan cares for both your property and your person. A will, and for some persons a trust, is important for the management and distribution of your property. There are several basics steps in the estate planning process:

1. Write down what you own;
2. Work with an attorney to ensure you have a way to get accurate and timely advice
3. Know how property is transferred-for example, some is transferred by a beneficiary designation or other forms
4. Decide t whom you will leave your assets and possessions-relatives, friends, organizations
5. Sign your will and medical directives and make sure all paperwork is accessible to those involved. If you are not sure where to turn for advice, a local community foundation or local bar association and often state websites have estate planning resources offered for free

Tell Me More

Many people find great joy and satisfaction during life, knowing that through their will or estate plan, they will someday make a great difference in the lives of others. Isn't it worth considering the possibility? Tear off and return this form for free information.

Cut along the line and return this portion to NSAC Office, Attn. Dept. of Endowments.

Please send me:

☐ Planning Your Legacy, a free, simple workbook to prepare for writing my will.

☐ Language to use in my will for a gift to NSAC and/or my church.

☐ Information about ways to give to charity that will also provide income to me for life.

Please contact me:

☐ I would like to discuss my options.

Legacy Intentions:

☐ I already left the NSAC a gift in my estate plan, and

☐ I would like to be recognized as a member of the Legacy Society.

Name(s) you would like it to appear:

_____

☐ I would like to be an anonymous member of the Legacy Society.

Name: _____

Adress: _____

_____

Email: _____

Phone: _____

Thank you for helping to spread the light of Spiritualism throughout the world.